

Let us help you change the world!

The Amy Adina Schulman Memorial is a Princeton, New Jersey based endowment fund started in 1987 one year after Amy Adina, 20, died suddenly while a student and activist at Rutgers University. This Fund is a realization of her family and her communities' desire to celebrate her life, to fulfill her dreams and her potential.

The Fund is unique in that it only provides grants to individuals - young adults who volunteer or intern for progressive social action projects or programs of their own choosing. It supports today's young leaders in continuing the work that Amy Adina was unable to complete. Grants are awarded to permanent residents of the U.S. or Canada who volunteer full-time in Israel or elsewhere in service to the ideals of social justice to which Amy Adina was committed.

Applying for a Grant

Applicants submit a letter of acceptance from the organization with which they will work and receive supervision, and also submit a proposed plan as to how they will educate and encourage their peers to participate in similar social action.

Applicants must volunteer on a full-time basis (30 hours per week) for a progressive social justice program or project and have regular supervision under the direction of an established organization. Most grantees spend at least three months volunteering. Awardees agree to send written reports to the Fund upon completion of their project.

About Our Grants

The Fund awards small grants, ranging from $500 to $1500 (depending on length of service), to as many applicants as possible rather than giving larger amounts to fewer individuals.

Since Amy Adina's death, the Fund has distributed grants to more than 1,000 grantees. The number of awards has grown each year thanks to annual contributions as well as to gifts sent to the Fund to honor special occasions and life cycle events.

Grants are not awarded for academic programs even if there is a volunteer component.

Contributions to the Amy Adina Schulman Memorial Fund are fully tax deductible. The Fund is a 501(c) 3 non-profit organization; IRS Department of Treasury, 6/14/1991, EIN#22-281-8980.
